

Pinup Kulture Magazine: Your personal fashion style go hand in hand with your musical style. How did your love of this style develop and how are you inspired?

Miss Tammi Savoy: I have always been into vintage styles from different eras. When I was younger I didn't have access to true vintage so I would create my own vintage inspired looks. I started out doing mostly 60's and 70's looks, but as an adult, I wear more 50's looks and dabble in 40's and 60's looks as well. I would see Old Hollywood stars (mostly in magazines) as a child and I always imagined what it would be like to look that way. I also loved seeing women who sang on stage with elegant gowns and imagined it was me on stage instead. The Supremes would be one example of the style that I loved.
